

Mentoring

Outstanding and life-changing outcomes.

This is what Murali helps his clients achieve – through his very effective private consultations and one-on-one mentoring for individuals, entrepreneurs, organization heads and business leaders.

He is passionate about helping the people he works with, takes great pride in his service and is very diligent about his commitment to deliver extraordinary results.

The most effective mentors and mentees are people who are dedicated to the idea of making their relationship work and Murali is dedicated to his mentees' success. With an emphasis on performance, leadership, and personal empowerment, Murali offers practical, 'roll up your sleeves' applications that are easily understood and quickly implemented.

"I am very happy to note that your mentoring has provided our candidate with invaluable information and tangible resources to be more successful in his job search! We really appreciate the time, commitment, professionalism and interest that you have demonstrated and hope that you have an equally fulfilling experience in this Mentoring relationship!"

Best regards, Paula Calderon | Senior Manager, Partnerships, Career Edge Organization

Top Ten Reasons to Hire Murali as a Mentor

1. Your sessions are personalized for you and your objectives. No two individuals are alike, so why should your mentoring sessions be the same?
2. He assures fast results and his coaching is immediately applicable to the work your teams are doing. You will walk away from each session excited about what's possible for you and armed with innovative strategies and actions to get you there.
3. His hands-on approach gives each participant easy to implement tips and techniques to put theory instantly into action.
4. His experience with diverse individuals, allows him to understand the needs of a wide variety of clients from different cultures, nationalities, and backgrounds.
5. His past clients refer new clients to him at an exceptionally high rate, so you know his coaching has been remarkably successful in helping individuals and teams achieve greater success on the job and in life.
6. He can come to your home, office or workplace saving you the time and money of sending your group elsewhere.
7. He involves every member of your team, using a variety of different methodologies to get them collaborating.
8. He takes pride in his work, is easy to work with and has an entertaining style that engages each participant.
9. His workshop topics can span from a half-day to multiple days.
10. His coaching is just as effective in person as over the phone, so your location is irrelevant.

Contact Murali for a personal consultation and one-on-one mentoring.